FAIRHOPE -

Alice Faye Wyatt of Fairhope, Alabama passed away on Thanksgiving Eve, November 22 at the age of 82 with family by her side after a brief illness that lasted a short six days.

Born to parents, Cleo and Ira Green Faye spent her childhood in Carthage, Mississippi before moving to Jackson where she graduated from Hinds Community College and entered the banking field.

Her career spanned from banking to real estate to property management.

In 1983 Faye made the state of Alabama her permanent home. After her husband's death in 2014 Faye moved to Fairhope where she spent the last nine years. She never met a stranger and made fast friends there. She had several nicknames throughout her life, but Famous was the one that stuck which is what her great granddaughter, Ella called her.

Although a small family there were four generations of girls. Faye found great joy in her family, but she considered her circle of friends in Fairhope also family.

She spent her last years dancing, laughing, and being grateful for the life she had found.

Her favorite scripture was the 23rd psalm.

Faye is survived by her only daughter, Kristie Nutt ( David ) of Flora, her granddaughter, Carly Smith ( Kevin ) of Madison and her one great granddaughter, Ella Jane Smith of Madison. Also survived by great niece, Jamie Brown of Crystal Springs.

The family would like to especially thank Robie and Anthony Rossi and Molly Brunson who loved Faye as their own.

Faye was laid to rest near her mom, dad and her sister in a private graveside service for immediate family only with a beautiful send off by bagpipes to Amazing Grace.

Memorials in Faye's name, to also honor Ella may be made to the MRA Capital Building Campaign, 7601 Old Canton Road, Madison, Mississippi 39110.
