

Mr Troy Dean Parkison Jr.

May 11, 1946 - August 8, 2016

Troy Dean Parkison, Jr.
Carthage, MS

Troy Dean Parkison, Jr., 70, a retired farmer, died Monday, August 8, 2016 at his home.

A time of visitation with the family will be held Saturday, August 13, 2016 at Madden Baptist Church from 1:00 pm to 4:00 pm.

A memorial service is planned for a later date. Wilcox was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Parkison, a native of Hinds County, is survived by: his wife, Beverly Parkison of Carthage; sons, Dean Parkison of Walnut Grove, Ray Parkison of Atlanta, GA, and Todd Parkison of Philadelphia; a sister, Joy Allen of McKinney, TX; 7 grandchildren.

Tribute Wall

DC

“ Troy Dean and I are first Cousins. We haven't seen each other in 45 or so years. Doesn't say a lot for family ties. I was looking at a map showing his home near Carthage when I found that he had passed on. This was about a week and a half after the fact. You never know until it's to late sometimes. We could have shared a lot over the years. I was born about 4 months before him. Margie was my Aunt. My Mothers younger Sister.

David L. Cox
davidl@cableone.net

David L. Cox - September 27, 2016 at 05:30 PM

RL

“ Beverly, so sorry to hear this. Pat Hatch Monk posted a notice on Facebook, so wanted to leave this short note to you here. Know you shared a long "Good Life" with Troy, remember your so in love courtship! Knowing what it's like to loose your spouse, I can only say that it's always tough, but each day does get a little easier. My heartfelt sympathies to you, and your whole family! Will always remember what a hard, conscientious worker Troy was! And so devoted to you! Roy Lawrence

Roy Lawrence - August 13, 2016 at 04:29 PM

SA

“ I'm sorry to hear of the passing of Troy. I have known Troy since grade school at McWillie and attended Bailey, Chastain and Murrah High School with him. I haven't seen Troy since high school. My sincere condolences go out to Beverly and his family.

Steve Alderman - August 11, 2016 at 08:50 AM